Land Sighted by Colonists

Alaska Port Flanked Big Welcome, Men to Hasten to Land Drawing

BY ARVILLE SCHULLEN

Abroad U. S. A. T. A. M. M. B. (By Radio) — Land was sighted at daylight Wednesday. Land! It means all the things the Wisconsin and Michigan pioneers hoped to see this army transport near Alaska. It means new homes, new fields, a new chance. So you can imagine the feelings stirred up as the first shadowed hopes appeared over the horizon. Seward, the landing point, is preparing a welcome. The men of the expedition will go ashore at once to Palau, a group of islands near the main land, and then aboard the Maine, the project was to be continued.
